President Chris Wagner resumed the Board Meeting at 11:17am at PSD in PSD. Wagner thanked our hosts at PSD for giving us a wonderful tour of the facilities and programs.

Steve Lovi gave an update on delegate registration and the logistics for delegates’ preparation.

President Wagner called for recess at 11:56am

The meeting resumed at 1:08pm

President Wagner made welcoming remarks to the visitors and explained the meeting’s agenda.

President Wagner reviewed the agenda and listed the topics to be discussed: the COR process, the election process, the OGG delegate selection, the Bylaws amendments, the Regional Caucuses and the NLTC 2019 site selection.

The NAD Board engaged in a discussion about the voting system for both the General Forum and COR.

Pamela Llyod-Ogoke provided her report on the election process, including what is being shared with the public in terms of applying to run for a position, the information that is shared with the public, the questionnaire that candidates need to complete, and more. In addition to Pamela, there are two people who are on the election committee: Alan Hurwitz and Jerry Nelson.

Howard Rosenblum brought up concerns about the proposed plan for the OGG delegates. The concern was the nomination process that someone would nominate that person without being aware about it. A plan was developed to contact all OGG delegates that were proposed and determine their interest.

Michelle and Holly discussed the status of priority motions being proposed for this conference. A few motions have come in and the focus will be on collecting more motions. A committee has been formed, but so far there is now one person from Region IV and a representative from each of the other three regions are needed.

President Wagner called for recess at 2:45pm

The meeting was resumed at 3:02pm.

Wagner introduced Neil McDevitt who is the chair of the Emergency Management Expert Group under Public Policy and is working on one of our priorities and he is the Executive Director of DHCC.

Neil made remarks about the DHCC which provides different services to the Philadelphia area. DHCC provides many kinds of service such as interpreters, ASL classes, communication access, and other services to meet the different needs of the community. Neil identified several issues that are impacting deaf individuals in the Philadelphia area:

- VRI issues - Health Care providers’ offices are now using VRI as primary choice for communication access.
- Now health care providers are forcing deaf people to use their own mobile phone to call interpreters to provide communication access during a medical visit.
- Right now, cross-disability organizations are very aggressive in pushing many deaf services to become a part of the organization without providing direct service for deaf people. Neil asked the NAD to work with him and other advocates to send a letter to the NCIL about this issue.

Joshua Beckman gave a report on proposed changes to the bylaws. There are no amendments proposals yet but the bylaws committee has been established. The committee will begin working on a few amendments.

President Wagner discussed about the Regional Caucus agenda during the Conference.
President Wagner opened a discussion about selecting the NLTC 2019 site.
