

To Whom it May Concern:

The National Association of the Deaf (NAD) seeks to ensure that all places of public accommodation such as private entities that are open to the public understand their legal obligations with respect to serving deaf or hard of hearing individuals. The Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) has clear mandates prohibiting such entities from discriminating against an individual on the basis of disability in the full and equal enjoyment of the entity's goods, services, facilities, privileges, advantages, or accommodations. See 42 U.S.C. § 12182(a).

Title III of the ADA applies to all "places of public accommodation" and "any person who owns, leases (or leases to), or operates a place of public accommodation." See 42 U.S.C. § 12182(a). Places of public accommodation include, but are not limited to: bars, restaurants, gyms, hotels, and sports venues. See 42 U.S.C. § 12181(7).

Title III of the ADA requires that covered entities provide access to aural information on televisions. Captions and subtitles ensure that such aural information is made available to deaf or hard of hearing individuals. Places of public accommodations must, upon request, turn on the closed captioning on any television that is in use during regular hours in any public area. See 42 U.S.C. § 12132(b)(2)(A)(iii); 28 C.F.R. § 36.303(b)(1).

The Television Decoder Circuitry Act of 1990 (TDCA) requires that television receivers with picture screens 13 inches or larger contain built-in decoder circuitry designed to display closed captioned television transmissions. In 2010, the Twenty-First Communications and Video Accessibility Act (CVAA) expanded this requirement to include all devices capable of receiving, playing back, and recording video, regardless of size. The equipment must also enable consumers to adjust closed captions in a variety of ways, including font, size, color, background, opacity, and edge attributes.

The process for turning on the closed captioning can vary widely between different television makes and models. For example, some televisions can be activated with a simple press of the "CC" button on the remote. Other televisions require navigation of the settings menu, accessed by pressing the "Menu" button on the remote and selecting "Settings", followed by "Closed Captions". For detailed instructions on activating the closed captions on a particular make or model you may refer to the owner's manual or search online for the operating instructions.

Please note that many cities and states have enacted their own laws and ordinances requiring that captioning be activated on any television in public areas. E.g. Maryland State Government Code §20-306; City of Portland Ordinance No. 187454; City of San Francisco Resolution #2008-03; Rochester City Code Chapter 63-3, Ann Arbor City Ordinance No. ORD-16-24.

Thank you for your attention to this important matter.

Sincerely,

The National Association of the Deaf

(b) Construction.

(1) General prohibition.

(A) Activities.

(i) Denial of participation. It shall be discriminatory to subject an individual or class of individuals on the basis of a disability or disabilities of such individual or class, directly, or through contractual, licensing, or other arrangements, to a denial of the opportunity of the individual or class to participate in or benefit from the goods, services, facilities, privileges, advantages, or accommodations of an entity.

(ii) Participation in unequal benefit. It shall be discriminatory to afford an individual or class of individuals, on the basis of a disability or disabilities of such individual or class, directly, or through contractual, licensing, or other arrangements with the opportunity to participate in or benefit from a good, service, facility, privilege, advantage, or accommodation that is not equal to that afforded to other individuals.

(iii) Separate benefit. It shall be discriminatory to provide an individual or class of individuals, on the basis of a disability or disabilities of such individual or class, directly, or through contractual, licensing, or other arrangements with a good, service, facility, privilege, advantage, or accommodation that is different or separate from that provided to other individuals, unless such action is necessary to provide the individual or class of individuals with a good, service, facility, privilege, advantage, or accommodation, or other opportunity that is as effective as that provided to others.

(iv) Individual or class of individuals. For purposes of clauses (i) through (iii) of this subparagraph, the term "individual or class of individuals" refers to the participants of the covered place of public accommodation that enters into the contractual, licensing or other arrangement.

Notwithstanding the existence of separate or different programs or activities provided in accordance with this section, an individual with a disability shall not be denied the opportunity to participate in such programs or activities that are not separate or different.

(D) Administrative methods. An individual or entity shall not, directly or through contractual or other arrangements, utilize standards or criteria or methods of administration—

(i) that have the effect of discriminating on the basis of disability; or

(ii) that perpetuate the discrimination of others who are subject to common administrative control.

(E) Association. It shall be discriminatory to exclude or otherwise deny equal goods, services, facilities, privileges, advantages, accommodations, or other opportunities to an individual or entity because of the known disability of an individual with whom the individual or entity is known to have a relationship or association.

(2) Specific prohibitions.

(A) Discrimination. For purposes of subsection (a), discrimination includes—

(i) the imposition or application of eligibility criteria that screen out or tend to screen out an individual with a disability or any class of individuals with disabilities from fully and equally enjoying any goods, services, facilities, privileges, advantages, or accommodations, unless such criteria can be shown to be necessary for the provision of the goods, services, facilities, privileges, advantages, or accommodations being offered;

(ii) a failure to make reasonable modifications in policies, practices, or procedures, when such modifications are necessary to afford such goods, services, facilities, privileges, advantages, or accommodations to individuals with disabilities, unless the entity can demonstrate that making such modifications would fundamentally alter the nature of such goods, services, facilities, privileges, advantages, or accommodations;

(iii) a failure to take such steps as may be necessary to ensure that no individual with a disability is excluded, denied services, segregated or otherwise treated differently than other individuals because of the absence of auxiliary aids and services, unless the entity can demonstrate that taking such steps would fundamentally alter the nature of the good, service, facility, privilege, advantage, or accommodation being offered or would result in an undue burden;

(iv) a failure to remove architectural barriers, and communication barriers that are structural in nature, in existing facilities, and transportation barriers in existing vehicles and rail passenger cars used by an establishment for transporting individuals (not including barriers that can only be removed through the retrofitting of vehicles or rail passenger cars by the installation of a hydraulic or other lift), where such removal is readily achievable; and

(v) where an entity can demonstrate that the removal of a barrier under clause (iv) is not readily achievable, a failure to make such goods, services, facilities, privileges, advantages, or accommodations available through alternative methods if such methods are readily achievable.
